Nomination Guidelines

The National Abolition Hall of Fame and Museum (NAHOF) invites persons or organizations to nominate abolitionists who worked in the United States for the immediate abolition of slavery, and who made a significant impact in the abolition movement prior to 1870 to be considered/nominated for induction.

Nominations must be submitted electronically. Each nomination will be reviewed by the inductee committee of the Cabinet of Freedom for accuracy, documentation, and compliance with stated criteria. The completed application is used to determine the merits of the nominee for induction into the National Abolition Hall of Fame and Museum.

The applications also become the primary planning tool for the induction and commemoration events. The application may require networking with other persons and organizations so that others interested in participating in the ceremonies can be contacted.

- Please complete all applicable information.
- Please clearly label each section of the application.
- There are seven (7) sections to this application: Sections 3, 4, and 7 are optional, but strongly encouraged.
- Submit completed application to nahofm1835@gmail.com
- Send a copy of the application to mcsernett@windstream.net

Selection

The applications will be processed by the Inductee Committee of the National Abolition Hall of Fame and Museum's Cabinet of Freedom. The Inductee Committee will forward copies of the applications to expert readers to evaluate the suitability of the nominee for induction. The Inductee Committee will present the top abolitionists to the Cabinet of Freedom, which makes the final decision. Thereafter all applicants will be notified of the status of their nomination.
